

Information about Pandhy's hair removal with sugar

The sugar consists of body-specific substances; glucose, fructose and water which excludes allergy to the product.

All other brands on the market use lemon in the sugar paste. Pandhy's is the only one who has developed the sugar in such a way that it contains no lemon. Lemon closes the pores of the skin while they have to be open to be able to depilate to the root of the hair.

Depilation in addition to all other methods of depilation, sugar is the only one that goes to the hair root.

The picture below shows how far the sugar can depilate in comparison with other techniques.

Advantages of depilation with sugar:

- The hairs are removed with the hair growth direction, thereby reducing the pain.
- The hairs are completely removed, making them thinner and growing less quickly.
- Hygienic work is being carried out.
- The skin structure improves by removing dead skin cells without damaging the living cells.
- Sugar consists of body substances that work naturally.
- The structure of the hair structure is slowly destroyed, which leads to a permanent result.
